Dear Friends

The rainy season is in full swing in August but we give you different ideas on how to get through the wettest month with an article full of suggestions just as our cover headline highlights Embracing the Rainy Season! The high end and ever popular Sheraton Addis has proudly partnered with a local community charity engaged in empowering women - read all about it! Our roving travel writer and photographer Michael Metaferia explores highland safaris that take you into misty mountains, dramatic cliffs, and lush forests, where the Endemic Big 5 roam.

We profile two books - one is a poetry collection titled Fragments of Emotion by Kenenisa Bekeles 17-year-old daughter, Elnata Kenenisa and the other a book is about long distance runner, Haile Gebrselassie written by his daughter Melat Haile. Last but not least we celebrate the global recognition of three amazing Ethiopian architects awarded for their design of a mobile school for the West Bank in Palestine.

See you next month and try and stay dry!

EMBRACING ETHIOPIA'S RAINY SEASON: FUN ACTIVITIES FOR FAMILIES AND KIDS

by Rachel Berhane

Ethiopia's rainy season, Kiremt, from June to September, transforms the landscape into a lush, green paradise. While the rain often keeps people indoors, it's a wonderful time to bond with your family and explore creative activities with your kids.

Indoor Adventures

Rainy days are perfect for arts and crafts. Encourage kids to create Ethiopian-inspired designs or colorful landscapes using paper, paint, and markers. Cooking together is another cozy activity—try making traditional dishes like shiro or baking dabo. Storytelling is a great way to keep children entertained while passing on Ethiopia's rich oral traditions. Add some fun science experiments, such as making rainbows with water and mirrors, to inspire curiosity.

Outdoor Fun

Rainy days don't mean staying inside all the time. When the rain is light, let kids enjoy puddle splashing with boots and raincoats. Short hikes to lush parks like Entoto Park in Addis Ababa can be both refreshing and exciting. Encourage kids to capture nature with rain-themed photography, teaching them to appreciate the beauty of Kiremt.

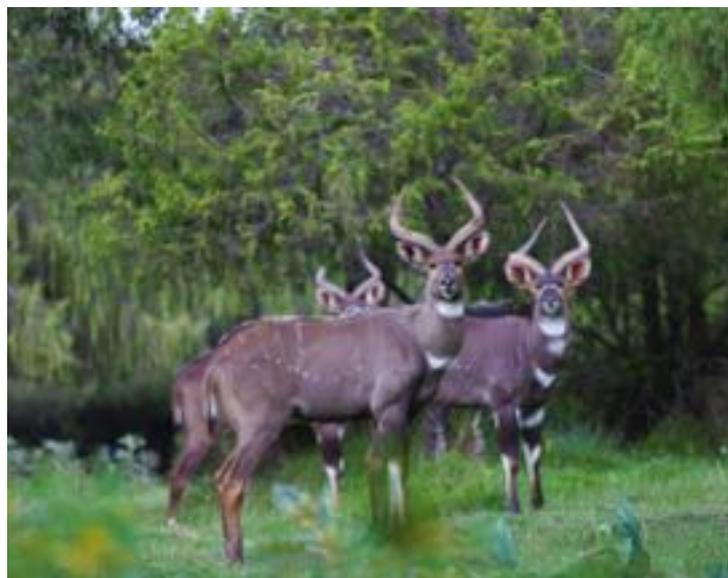

Community Engagement

Take advantage of cultural workshops that teach dance, music, or painting, keeping kids connected to their heritage. Libraries, especially the Abrehot Library next to Friendship Park, are also great for exploring Ethiopian and international children's books, fostering a love for reading.

Embracing the Rain

The rainy season is not just about staying dry—it's an opportunity to create meaningful experiences with your loved ones. Whether indoors or outdoors, these activities ensure your family can enjoy the magic of Ethiopia's Kiremt.

ETHIOPIA'S ENDEMIC BIG 5

A DIFFERENT KIND OF AFRICAN SAFARI

When you think of an African safari, the image of lions hunting in the savannah or herds of elephants roaming on the plains likely comes to mind. But Ethiopia offers a uniquely different adventure, a highland safari into misty mountains, dramatic cliffs, and lush forests, where the Endemic Big 5 roam.

The Mountain Nyala is a beautiful antelope found only in the Bale Mountains. Shy and elusive, its spiral horns and graceful posture make it a breathtaking sight. In the same alpine region, the Ethiopian Wolf, the world's rarest canid, calls the highlands home. With its foxlike face and rust-colored coat, it's a predator of rodents and a symbol of monogamy, one wolf mates and lives with only one partner for life.

To the north, in the dramatic cliffs of the Simien Mountains, troops of Gelada Baboons graze like cattle, their bright red chests and social behaviors offering an unforgettable wildlife experience. Sharing these rugged mountains is the Walia Ibex, a majestic wild goat with curved horns, found nowhere else on Earth.

Further to the West, in the grasslands of the Senkele Wildlife Sanctuary, the Swayne's Hartebeest, a unique looking antelope, gallops on the plains, its long face giving it a distinctive look.

But Ethiopia's safari is more than wildlife. It's a cultural immersion. Travelers can share coffee with farmers in Bale, dance with shepherds in the Simien Mountains, or cherish local delicacies in the west.

This is not the Africa on magazines, it's deeper, quieter, and a soulful place that takes you centuries back in time. A safari in Ethiopia is an invitation to explore not only rare wildlife, but also ancient traditions, breathtaking landscapes, and the warmth of people who call these wild places home.

THE BIG 5 CONSTRUCT ETHIOPIA 2025: A PLATFORM FOR INNOVATION AND GROWTH

by Rachel Berhane

The Big 5 Construct Ethiopia 2025 took place at the Millennium Hall in Addis Ababa from June 26 to June 28, 2025, solidifying its position as a premier event in the construction and infrastructure sector. Featuring over 180 exhibitors from 20+ countries, the event attracted significant local and international attention, showcasing cutting-edge technologies and solutions.

Drawing over 10,000 professionals from Ethiopia's construction industry, the exhibition provided a unique platform for contractors, developers, distributors, and government stakeholders to engage directly. Attendees explored innovations and sustainable solutions tailored to Ethiopia's growing infrastructure needs, with interactive workshops and seminars enhancing the experience.

Italy played a pivotal role at the event, with the Italian Trade Agency (ITA) leading efforts to spotlight advanced Italian construction technologies and sustainable practices. At a dedicated pavilion, Italian exhibitors demonstrated their expertise, fostering connections with local contractors, distributors, and government officials.

On June 26, 2025, the Italian Embassy hosted an exclusive dinner that brought together Italian delegates, Ethiopian officials, and industry leaders. This event emphasized Italy's ongoing commitment to Ethiopia's development agenda and its focus on strengthening bilateral trade and investment.

More than an exhibition, the Big 5 Construct Ethiopia 2025 served as a critical driver of growth and collaboration. The active participation of global leaders like Italy highlighted the importance of international cooperation in addressing Ethiopia's infrastructure challenges and achieving its ambitious development goals.

The success of the event reflects Ethiopia's growing potential as a regional hub for innovation and trade, paving the way for sustainable partnerships and transformative progress.

"FRAGMENTS OF EMOTION"

KENENISA BEKELE'S DAUGHTER, ELNATA, PUBLISHES HER FIRST BOOK

Ethiopian running legend Kenenisa Bekele is celebrating a milestone off the track – his 17-year-old daughter, Elnata Kenenisa, has published her first book, Fragments of Emotion. The poetry collection features 17 heartfelt poems that explore themes of love, self-discovery, and the complexity of human emotion.

Kenenisa expressed his pride in a touching message, saying, "At just 17 years old, she has poured her heart into a collection of 17 beautiful poems. We are all so proud of her incredible achievement. Elnata, your dedication and creativity inspire us every day."

Elnata's debut has been met with admiration across Ethiopia and beyond, with readers praising the emotional depth of her writing. Her literary talent marks the beginning of a promising journey in a different arena than her father's, yet with equal determination and grace.

With strong support from her family and growing recognition from readers, Elnata is emerging as a powerful new voice in Ethiopian literature. Fragments of Emotion signals the start of what promises to be an inspiring creative journey.

DISSECTING HAILE: NEW BOOK ABOUT LEGENDARY ATHLETE HAILE GEBRSELASSIE

A new book titled Dissecting Haile is set for release this August, offering rare insight into the life and mindset of Ethiopia's legendary long-distance runner, Haile Gebrselassie. Written by his daughter, Melat Haile, the book delves into the values, discipline, and perseverance that defined his journey from rural Ethiopia to Olympic glory.

Through twelve chapters, Melat shares personal reflections and key lessons drawn from her father's life, aiming to inspire readers with his "nothing is impossible" mindset. She wrote the book not just as a tribute but as a motivational guide for athletes, entrepreneurs, and dreamers alike.

Dissecting Haile will be published in Amharic, English, and Braille to ensure accessibility for a wide audience. The book will launch in Nehasé (August) and be available online, in bookstores, and on platforms like Amazon and Telebirr.

As the world continues to admire Haile Gebrselassie's legacy, this book offers a deeply personal perspective – from daughter to father – on the principles that shaped one of the greatest athletes of all time.

YOUNG ETHIOPIAN ARCHITECTS WIN GLOBAL RECOGNITION FOR MOBILE SCHOOL DESIGN

AUGUST 2025

Three young Ethiopian architects – Daniel Waju, Binyam Bekehetu, and Fraser Abraha – have earned international acclaim for their innovative design of a mobile emergency school for Khan al-Ahmar, a vulnerable village in the West Bank, Palestine. Their project, which won the silver medal in a global competition hosted by Archstorming, highlights the creativity and perseverance of Ethiopia's rising design talent.

The trio began their careers at Alebel Deshta Architects in Addis Ababa, mentored by the acclaimed Gomtu Nedafi Alebel. Despite their youth, they bring both professionalism and warmth to their work, often brainstorming over tea near Mexico Square – a quiet café that has become their informal studio.

Their award-winning design came after years of setbacks. From Zambia to India, they participated in several international competitions, frequently reaching initial stages but falling short of awards. Undeterred, they honed their skills and vision with each attempt. Their breakthrough came with a tent-like, foldable school – a portable structure that could be quickly assembled, dismantled, and relocated during conflict.

Driven by deep research into Palestinian culture, restrictions under occupation, and local materials, they created a school that is not only functional but deeply symbolic. Constructed without metal – which is banned in Palestinian construction – and adaptable to harsh conditions, the design stood out for its cultural sensitivity and practicality.

"This win is a result of persistence," says Binyam. "We failed many times before we got here."

For these architects, the silver medal is more than a trophy – it's a call to recognize the potential of young African talent in global design conversations. Their story is one of resilience, collaboration, and the belief that bold ideas can emerge from anywhere.

Reflexology, another core offering, targets specific pressure points—mainly on the feet, hands, and ears—to stimulate the body's natural healing processes. This gentle yet powerful method helps reduce stress, improve circulation, and support detoxification, leaving clients feeling balanced and rejuvenated.

What sets Yewnet apart is its commitment to treating the root causes of discomfort rather than just the symptoms. Clients benefit from a calm, welcoming space where they can relax, heal, and reconnect with their bodies.

Under the vision and guidance of Asenafi Girma, Yewnet Sport Therapy and Reflexology continues to grow as a trusted destination for holistic wellness in Addis Ababa—offering expert care, heartfelt service, and long-term health solutions.

SITTING IS THE NEW SMOKING

... AND NO, THAT'S NOT JUST A CATCHY PHRASE, IT'S A REAL HEALTH WARNING.

We now spend more than 9 hours a day sitting, whether it's at our desks, in traffic, or on the couch.

Sitting for more than 6 hours a day is linked to a 19% higher risk of death from all causes, compared to sitting less than 3 hours.

Long sitting hours are associated with a 147% increase in cardiovascular events.

Sedentary lifestyles contribute to 1 in 10 deaths globally, according to the WHO.

Even 30 minutes of daily exercise can't fully undo the damage caused by sitting all day.

The brain isn't spared either. Reduced movement means reduced blood flow and that affects focus, memory, and even mood.

So what can you do?

Stand up every 30–45 minutes
Take a walking meeting when possible
Use stairs instead of elevators
Walk after meals

Movement doesn't need a gym. It just needs a habit.
